“A MODEL FOR HIERARCHS”

Few saints are as popular as St. Nicholas, who is held in high esteem by both the Eastern and Western Church. He is known as the Patron Saints of children, merchants, sailors and travelers. Tales of his generosity have become legendary, and this beloved saint will forever be associated with being the “real Santa Claus!” There is another “side” to St. Nicholas, however, which is often overshadowed by the legends and myths that are attached to his life: St. Nicholas was a respected hierarch and brilliant theologian. St. Nicholas was born at the turn of the 4th century in the town of Patara in Asia Minor. After the death of his parents, Nicholas was ordained a deacon and then a priest. His talents and abilities were obvious to the other monks, and soon Nicholas was named Abbot of the monastery. When the Archbishop of Myra died, Nicholas was his logical successor. Like many of his contemporaries, St. Nicholas suffered persecution from the hands of the Romans. He was able to see the Church emerge victorious from its 300-years struggle against paganism when Constantine the Great gave his formal approval to Christianity. When the First Ecumenical Council was convened in Nicea in 325 A. D. to combat the heresy of Arius, St. Nicholas was one of those present. When Arius – an Alexandrian priest – tried to convince the Church Fathers that Christ was Not “of one essence with the Father,” but rather a creation of the Father, an enraged Nicholas struck the heretic in the face! Such was the depth of his love for the true teachings of the Church. It is no wonder that St. Nicholas is referred to in our hymnology as “a model for hierarchs.”
